our hearts

Winson R. Coleman, Ph.D.

In the history of any college, there are always those whose influence and contribution have outdistanced mere responsibility and whose memory will remain indelibly stamped on the mind and conscience of all who come in contact with them. At Johnson C. Smith University such a person is Dr. Winson R. Coleman.

Dr. Coleman may be seen between classes with briefcase in hand and head bowed, as he saunters across the campus. He appears solely as a man of culture — precise, detached, impersonal; a scholar and an academician.

In class one will always find him reading a magazine if the class has not begun. At the proper time he stops, takes out a rolebook from his briefcase and thus becomes the Socratic Demon. He requires a student to do his best— and better. His "detachment" is actually the tendency to withhold commendation until deserved. He applies this constant demand for improvement to himself, a factor which perhaps above all wins him the respect and admiration of everyone associated with him.

Thus with sincere gratitude for what he means to us, the Senior Class of Johnson C. Smith University dedicates the 1962 edition of the Bull to Dr. Coleman.

We will remember how Smith looks and the buildings that make it look this way surprise us, if we stop to look . . .

This is how our year began at the registrar's office . . .

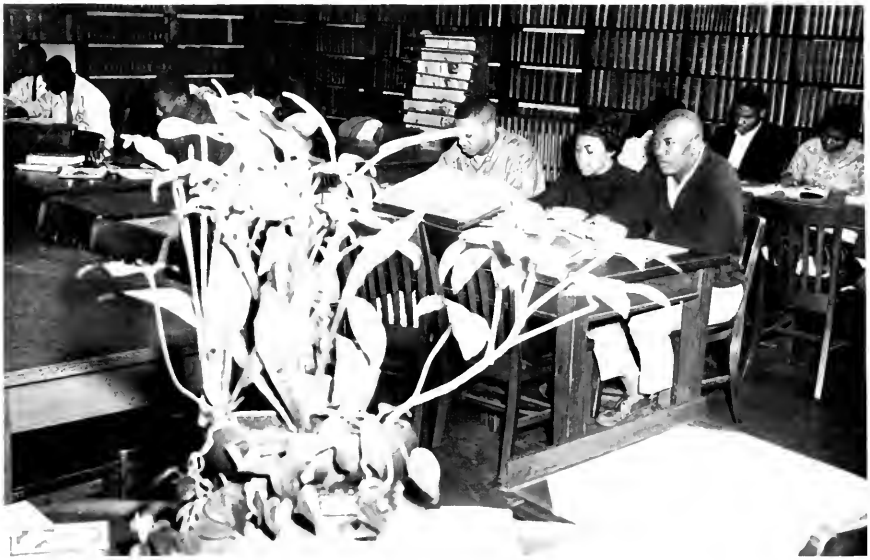
. . . at the business office

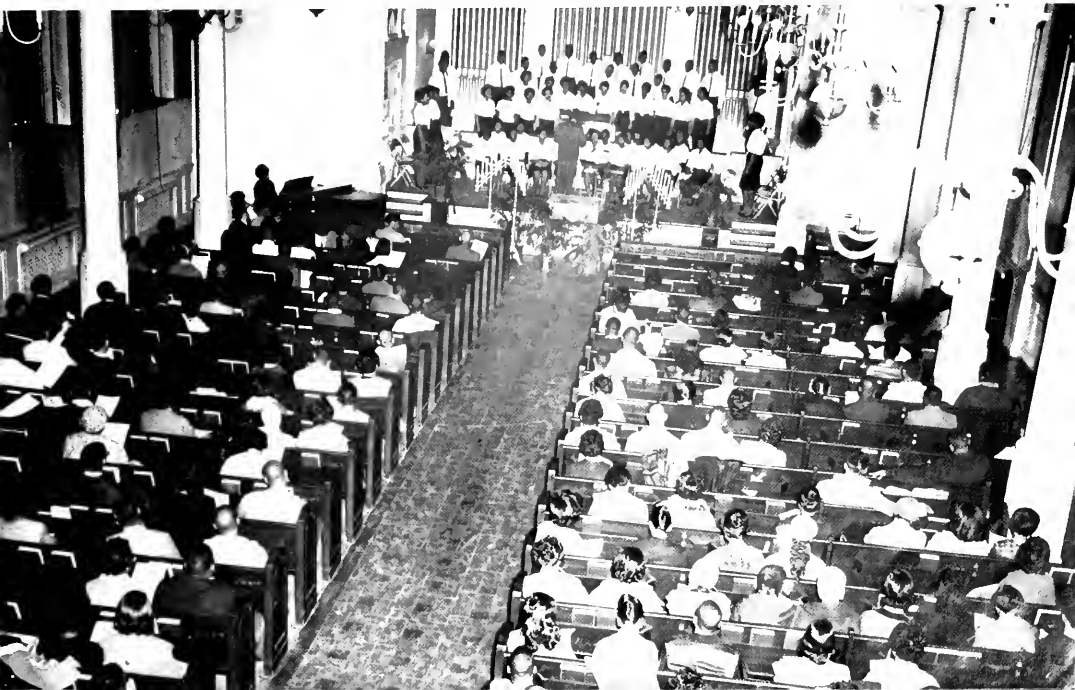
Meantime we visited familiar places . . .

We soon settled down to study



We attended classes,

and the required chapel assemblies



Soon this schedule was interrupted

because there were always meetings

. . . or something to take up our time

THE LOYALTY SONG

We love thee Smith with all our hearts
To Thee we'll e'er be true,
And in the light of Truth and Right
Hold high the Gold and Blue

Fair Smith where e'er on earth we roam
Send forth thy constant ray,
And let it beam with steadfast gleam
To lead us o'er life's way

REFRAIN

Proudly we hail thy name our Alma Mater old S. U.

Johnson C. Smith our own our hope our Guiding Light unfailing; Pride of our loyal hearts, we'll love and honor thee
our whole lives through,

On, ever on dear old J. C. S. U.

From the President's Desk . . .

Our task here is to train free men and women in a free society to the end that they may take their places in that society, possessed of a high degree of civic consciousness, able to respond to the challenges of leadership, and equipped to lead the Good Life. Thus, Johnson C. Smith University is a place, an atmosphere and a tradition in Christian higher education. We want it to remain a place where the freedom to teach and the freedom to learn are carefully maintained.

Let us therefore in our ninety-fifth year renew our pledge to grow stronger in intellectual achievement and in moral atmosphere.

Class Song . . . . . .

Although we must go
Our hearts will linger;
We'll cherish all
The things we did together.

When the days grow dull
Our thoughts will cheer us.
And memories fond
Will lead us on forever.

As the years go by
And we realize we miss you so
Thoughts of days gone by will make us glow
And remember you, dear class of '62.

Now the time has come
And we're departing
Yet, in our hearts,
In all our hearts, we love you!
